

Resources When You Want Them

Evokat is considered a “Do-It-Yourself” solution because it provides all of the tools you need to create and manage a complete catalog. That doesn’t mean you have to go it alone though. Help is available.

ACESAdvantage is our own in-house solution for migrating raw data into a well structured ACES catalog. With over 10 years of computer learning, the A.I. is strong with this one.

Illumaware has a network of resources available to help with your catalog needs when things get busy. Whether you are between catalog managers or trying to push through a critical project, experienced resources are available.

In addition to industry experts, we also have a team of ‘data ninjas’ that can help with reformatting data for bulk updates or for managing other data sets that may not require the same degree of industry knowledge.

We give you as many data management tools as we can but know sometimes that is not enough.

In addition to industry experts, we also have a team of ‘data ninjas’ that can help with reformatting data for bulk updates or for managing other data sets that may not require the same degree of industry knowledge.

Contact Us

 800.880.4964

 sales@illumaware.com